Jefferson Elementary Trustees Told 'Resolve Problems or Quit'

By FRANK LaPIERRE

A five-member panel of educational experts Monday recommended Jefferson Elementary School District trustees either resolve problems facing the district or immediately resign.

They presented district Superintendent Frank Greenwood with a similar offer.

"If the superintendent cannot assume his role (of professional educational leader) he should give serious consideration to his future effectiveness . . . and give thought about moving to a new position."

The recommendations ended several months of "study" into activities of the school district by the Personnel Standards and Ethics Commission of the California Teachers Association (CTA) Association of School Administrators (CASA) and Elementary School Administrators Association (CESA).

In a 20-page report, the commission's Bay Section explained it had decided to accept responsibility for conducting a probe of "problems that were threatening to disrupt the educational program of the Jefferson School District."

According to the report, bared during a closed session at South San Francisco's Holiday Inn Monday night, the "problems" came into focus last year, but "may have been long in their development."

Past president of the CTA, Michael Pennings, resigned from the district in May, 1966, charging publicly the board and Superintendent Greenwood with "excessive expense" fund spending along with several other accusations relating to educational policies within the Jefferson area.

A request for an ethics investigation was made following a general membership meeting of the local chapter of the CTA shortly after Pennings' resignation.

On November 1, the study got under way at the Holiday Inn with the panel interviewing some 83 people in person and acknowledging receipt of an additional 24 written communications.

Teachers, citizens, administrators and "some board members" met with the panel during the four-day interview.

The Jefferson Elementary School Board, the report stated, disregarded "repeated invitations to appear before the panel as a board."

Members of the panel included Dr. Charles Clark, principal of Woodrow Wilson School, Stockton (CESSA); Fred Harmsen, San Antonio College Board member; Guy Emanuele, chairman of Personnel Standards and Ethics Commission, Bay section; Mrs. Dorothy Predmore, Monterey schoolteacher, and Dr. John C. Whinnery, retired superintendent at Montebello Unified Schools (CASA).

In its findings, the panel noted the relationship between the school board and community "has been strained recently."

"The panel has heard varying degrees of dissatisfaction with the functioning of the board, particularly the way meetings are conducted," the report said.

Meeting agendas were termed incomplete or inadequate and community division over certain problems within the district has increased in the past few months.

Testimony offered during the hearings indicated many citizens have lost confidence in the board and central administration, the report noted.

"Some of the areas of confusion concerning the citizens appearing before the panel were: finances of the district, expense money for board members, contracts, the SCOPE program and the educational program," the panel disclosed during the session.

It was also noted "there has been a split on the board for several years."

Discord among board members was blamed for the resignation of one trustee and the retirement of another last year.

Although the panel did not investigate financial activities of the district they asked, "Why were the already large allocations for board members' expense and travel doubled?

"Copies of expense statements submitted to the panel showed a marked variance in the amount of expenses for board members. There was another concern in this area: Why was $5,000 allocated for conference expenditures for the board, but only $6,000 allocated for over 420 staff members for their conference costs?"

Concluding their report, the panel commended the community "for its obvious support of the district's educational program.

"For several years, the district enjoyed a strong and productive relationship between the staff and community," the panel said.

This "relationship" was presently in the process of deterioration due to a lack of communication with the public, authoritarian methods, political in-fighting for control of what was called a "power structure" in the school district and the "waning of confidence in the school officers and board," according to the report.

Trustees Decline Comment

BY WILL THOMAS

Members of the Jefferson Elementary School Board, receiving copies of the report of the Personnel Standards and Ethics Commission of the California Teachers' Association shortly after 10 p.m. Monday declined to comment on its contents.

The board majority refused, as a unit, to meet with CTA representatives to discuss joint issuance of a press release to acknowledge completion of the probe and filing of the report.

Trustees said they had not had an opportunity to read the report and did not care to comment until they had digested its contents fully.

Superintendent Frank Greenwood noted he had read it, but was "not yet ready" to comment publicly.

Trustee Thomas Noonan indicated he saw "no particular rush" to comment "without a full evaluation."

Board Chairman George Perry refused to appoint, as requested by teacher unit spokesmen, two members of the board to discuss a press release.

One trustee explained his thinking that it was "totally out of order to ask for action tonight."

Superintendent Frank Greenwood and members of the board were unable to attend the final C-TA session Holiday Inn, South San Francisco. They were in an executive session with Miss Lois Scampini of the county district attorney's office discussing an agenda stated, "litigation involving the district."

Greenwood assigned Assistant Superintendents Roger Barthuli and Dr. Vinson Stratton to attend the meeting.

S.S.F. 'Showdown' Over Park and Fire Hall Fill?

BY DON GRIERSON

South San Francisco councilmen forced a "showdown," in effect, with Caesar-Callan Homes, Inc., Monday night over the matter of grading and filling a park and fire station site in the Westborough development.

Councilmen told representatives of the firm a grading permit requested this week will be withheld "unless a provision is included stipulating the grading of our ten-acre park site and the one-acre fire station site."

"We have an annexation agreement which has been in effect four years," Mayor Frank Bertucelli told developer Tom Callan, "and you have not satisfied the terms of this agreement."

"The residents of the area are becoming increasingly concerned," the mayor said.

Members of the Westborough Homeowners Association have urged the city to take action in the matter and enforce terms of the planned community agreements.

In addition to preparation of the park and fire station sites, councilmen exprssed concern over liens and other encumbrances of approximately $17,000 per acre which make deeds to the city property "practically worthless."

"As I see it, we are faced with two serious problems in connection with the fire station site and park lands," City Attorney John Noonan said. "First, these liens must be removed, and secondly the sites must be graded."

Callan requested a permit for the grading of approximately 300,000 square yards of fill material from the site this week. The graded soil would be used to fill the roadbed of the new Junipero Serra Freeway adjacent to the Westborough development.

The Guy F. Atkinson Company, site preparation contractor for the development, had requested the grading permit "in order to avoid long hauls" in filling operations on the freeway project.

The earth-moving firm had proposed to grade the material from a ten-acre site to be developed as a shopping center.

Ted Connally, the shopping center developer, told the council it is "extremely important" to his firm that Atkinson be allowed to proceed with the grading.

"If the grading doesn't begin soon, we will lose our contracts on the shopping center," Connally said.

But the council placed the (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Route 186 'Word' 60 Days Away

'Flux' in State Stalls Estimate

North Peninsula city officials will receive no official word on prospects for beginning construction of the Route 186 connecting road for "at least another 60 days," a delegation to Sacramento reported today.

Pacifica Mayor Harland Minshew and Mayor Karney Barberian of San Bruno said State Sen. Randolph Collier, chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee, told local officials Tuesday that the state's fiscal situation "is in too much of a flux" at this time to offer a firm estimate for "beginning or completion of the project."

"He told us to come back in 60 days," the delegates reported.

Minshew said he gained the impression that the highway department's fiscal situation "is not promising at this time."

Mayor Barberian said Collier "was in no way discouraging," however, and indicated the route is a priority project because of the increasing traffic load generated by the San Francisco International Airport.

"He indicated there is little likelihood of receiving immediate funds for the project, but at the same time assured us it is still very much in the works," Barberian said.

Other area officials present at the meeting with Collier were Vice Mayor Nick Gust and C. Trifoletti, chairman of the chamber of commerce transportation committee, from Pacifica, and Daly City Councilman Tony Giammona.

Deputy D.A. 'Clears' Jeff On Expenses

County deputy district attorney Lois Scampini revealed Monday her office had conducted a two months long probe into expense fund expenditures within the Jefferson Elementary School District and "found no evidence of criminal misuse of funds."

"We looked into records of the school district during the past two months and are convinced no criminal misuse of funds exists," Miss Scampini said.

She said the investigation had "nothing to do with the ethics study" conducted recently in the district, and refused to comment on the matter "until I know what the ethics report says."

'Unexpected Controversy' Stalls Permit

San Bruno planning commissioners voted to postpone further hearing on a use permit request for a drive-in restaurant after an "unexpected controversy" exploded Monday night.

Planning commission chairman Peter Weinberger, set a new hearing February 20 after about 10 residents of the Jenevein Avenue neighborhood spoke out against a use permit request for an A & W Rootbeer drive-in.

The permit was requested by Grady Frazier of Millbrae, owner of a lot at the corner of Jenevein and El Camino Real. Frazier is seeking to lease the site to the drive-in restaurant chain.

John Murphy, owner of a 10-unit apartment building adjacent to Frazier's property, presented a petition signed by 19 residents of the area protesting the use permit.

Murphy said a drive-in on El Camino Real in San Mateo has "ruined the apartment business there. Kids drive in and out of the place for kicks, and the city has had to employe two extra policemen to patrol the area."

"It would not be fair to me or to other residents of this area for you to allow the establishment of this type of business," he said.

Frazier, A & W representative Ray Bartells and attorneys for the applicant presented plans for a $125,000 combination drive-in and indoor restaurant.

They said the establishment would cater to all age groups, and would be a "family type" restaurant.

"This restaurant represents the most modern type establishment, and we feel it would be a credit to the area."

Frazier and proponents of the restaurant said the San Mateo drive-in has been "unjustly blamed for problems which re- (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

Accountant Says:

Jeff Travel Expenses Not Substantiated

Examination of the Jefferson Elementary School District's travel expenses for the last year have revealed "an almost complete lack of substantiation," according to certified public accountant Warren G. Lefort.

In his annual audit report to the Daly City School Board of Trustees, Lefort said "a review of travel, convention, conference and related expenses reveals . . . an almost complete lack of substantiation of these expenditures . . ."

Among the recommendations listed, the San Francisco accountant noted were: "substantial daily average charges for meals; charges for both taxis and personal cars submitted on the same travel expense report, and unsubstantiated expenses for bridges, tolls, parking, etc."

"The board should consider adopting a definite policy with regard to these expenses and may wish to refer to the 'Travel Policy and Procedure Manual' of San Mateo County," Lefort suggested. The examination was for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1966, and was made in accordance with "generally accepted auditing standards" and included tests of the accounting records and auditing procedures Lefort considered necessary.

But Lefort added several "exceptions" to his report, including omission of assets on property and equipment "because complete records were not available."

Explanatory statements attached to the audit report "present fairly the financial position of the general fund, bond building fund, cafeteria fund and student body funds."

"However, because of the omission of fixed assets, I cannot express an opinion that the statements present the complete financial position of the district," Lefort pointed out in a cover letter.

He also was unable to comment on the adequacy of the school district's fire insurance coverage because no recent independent appraisals of etiher buildings or contents had been made.

Included under "liabilities" for the year was a lawsuit lodged against the district by former district Superintendent Richard Foster, consisting of a (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

2 Teen-agers Jailed After D.C. Kidnap

Two north county teen-agers were back behind bars at Hillcrest Youth Guidance Center after a wild week-end of crime which started after they walked away from a field rehabilitation trip to Golden Gate Park Saturday.

The pair, ages 16 and 17, climaxed their spree by kidnapping Ann Warren Bryant, about 40, from the Lyons Restaurant parking lot in Daly City at knifepoint.

Miss Bryant, an employee of the restaurant, was walking towards her car shortly before midnight Sunday when the youths ran up and pushed a knife against her back.

The escapees grabbed Miss Bryant's car keys and shoved the woman into the front seat of the late model convertible. As they approached the Army Street freeway turnoff, one of the boys said "this is where you get off," but she persuaded them to drop her in the Mission District of San Francisco.

The boys stole $15 from their victim's pocketbook, however, Miss Bryant once again talked the pair into returning the pocketbook and enough change so I could take the bus home."

Instead of going home, Miss Bryant called police from a streetside phone booth near the (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

D.C. 'Town Hall'

'We're Communicating'

By MARIA MONTENEGRO

"We're really communicating!"

That was a common reaction among some 300 Daly City teens and adults who participated in Saturday's day-long Town Hall meeting at Jefferson High School.

The event was co-hosted by the city of Daly City, Jefferson High School District, and Jefferson, Bayshore, and Brisbane Elementary School Districts.

Titled "Delinquency Fallout, 8 to 80," the meeting was "a dialogue involving youth and adults regarding delinquency and crime in Daly City and surrounding communities."

"It is also a chance," Jefferson High principal Ernest Ribera explained, "for youth and adults to listen and to be heard in their many differences."

After a general session at 9:30 a.m., participants split into eleven discussion workshops manned by an adult moderator, a recorder, and 17 to 25 adults and youths (mostly Jefferson and Westmoor students).

The official discussion topics were "Definition and Causes of Delinquency," "What Role Do Institutions and Agencies Play?" "How Effective Are Current Prevention and Treatment Methods?" "Narcotics: The Attitude and Act," and "Family Responsibility."

The general session featured four keynote speakers in fields dealing with crime and delinquency who touched on the main discussion topics.

JUHSD Supt. of Schools Edward Morgan, the first speaker, said the prime cause of both "adult and juvenile delinquency" is a "dialogue breakdown."

Speaking of the school's role in reducing crime and delinquency Morgan said, "It is much less expensive to educate than to incarcerate." He pointed out that for every dollar spent on education $1.30 is spent on crime.

Loren Beckley, chief county probation officer, said, "The social ills of a community cannot be isolated."

He pointed out the higher incidence of crime in Daly City's "pockets of poverty" to show (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

10-Acre Shop Center Site Studied

South San Francisco planning commissioners will consider an application for a 10-acre shopping center complex at Westborough Boulevard and Junipero Serra at a scheduled meeting February 14.

Plans for the project have been submitted by Ted Connolly, a representative of an East Bay development firm.

The proposed center includes an 89,000-square-foot shopping area with parking facilities for 496 automobiles.

Other proposals scheduled for hearing at the meeting include a 132-unit motel adjacent to the entrance of the Golden Gate Produce Terminal.

The National Motel 6 chain is planning to build the facility.

Planning commissioners will also consider a controversial use permit application from the San Francisco Archdiocese of the Roman Catholic Church for a church-school complex in the Westborough district.

City Planner Daniel Pass has recommended that the use permit be denied on grounds the facility would take valuable property off the city's tax rolls.

Youth Knifed On Street In Daly City

A 20-year-old San Francisco youth was stabbed three times in broad daylight on a Daly City street Monday.

Police said Ernest Cattaneo, of 560 Arlington Street, refuses to tell them what happened and who stabbed him in the back, abdomen and left arm.

Cattaneo would only say, "I was stabbed by three men who jumped me."

The incident took place shortly after 2 p.m. while the victim was walking down Hoffman Street, according to police.

sprawling Sears-Roebuck store on Geary Boulevard.

An all-points alert went out for the pair — already the subject of a "wanted bulletin" since their escape from the field trip the day before.

Shortly after daybreak yesterday, a Napa County sheriff's deputy stopped the boys on a back road "because they were driving around suspiciously." The deputy had not been informed of the alert.

When identification of the pair was made, they were returned to Daly City.

Teens, Adults Communicate At Town Hall

"there is a direct relationship between crime and poverty."

"Official agencies can't do the job alone," said Beckley. "Both the prevention and correction of crime and delinquency must begin in the community."

Captain David Hansen of the Daly City Police Department, speaking on narcotics, asked participants to consider the attitudes and laws concerning narcotics—"What do we permit and how much do we experiment?"

Family responsibility as related to delinquency was described by Dr. Werner Berg of the North County Mental Health Service, who noted that "delinquent people are people who have anger inside them. Adolescence is a period of tremendous anger and frustration." He stressed parental responsibility to create family unity and communication as an outlet for this anger and frustration.

And what did some of the others say?

A youngster commented, "I can't talk to my parents about this."

Then, an adult said, "We parents find it difficult to get used to the change of ideas and atmosphere from what we knew as children."

A teen: "If we want to be treated like adults, we should follow adult rules."

A parent: "All people make mistakes but we try to prevent our children from them."

And there were others . . . statements, questions, words of advice, concern.

"We need more meetings like this," said one daughter, "so that little by little we can loosen up, even more."

And one mother acknowledged:

"It's a beginning."

sult from a neighborhood situation."

They said that the commissioners should consider the firm's operations in Menlo Park and several other area cities, "where we have had no trouble whatsoever."

Attorneys for Frazier and the A & W representatives said private patrol service would be furnished by the restaurant chain, and "the layout here would alleviate any problems which might have been encountered in San Mateo."

The use permit appicants also pointed out tax advantages to be derived from the establishment by the city.

"In addition to the $125,000 property investment, you would also collect $12,000-$13,000 annually in sales taxes," the attorneys said.

Frazier said the lot has been "completely unproductive" since El Camino Real was widened four years ago. It was necessary to remove existing structures from the site at that time.

burden of facilitating progress with Callan.

"We cannot put ourselves on the spot any longer," Mayor Bertucelli said. "Since the annexation of Westborough, people have been on our backs, writing letters, wanting things done, and they have every right to expect results. The city will not go any further until we see some results."

The council agreed to grant the grading permit with the provision that developers grade an additional 100,000 square yards from the park and fire station sites.

Callan said there is no way of determining the "exact amount of grading which will be required in order to render the city's lands usable."

"If the developer doesn't know what must be done in order to prepare these sites, then we should consider his whole plan for the development defective," Noonan replied.

The developer also said the two parcels of land dedicated to the city are "parts of a 60-acre area which should be developed in conjunction with the surrounding parcels."

"It would make no sense to go in and slash out the side of a hill for the park when everything around it is still in its original condition," he said.

Callan, in an interview following the study session, said he will "have to think about" the council's demands before giving a final answer on his intentions.

During the course of the meeting, he told councilmen steps have been taken toward removing financial encumbrances on the sites, and the deeds should be clear "within a few weeks."

claim amounting to some $5,007 plus interest and costs, for back pay allegedly owed by the district.

It was further recommended by Lefort that "comments contained in this repot indicate a need for stricter controls over many operations of the district."

Another point Lefort included in his audit report was the increase of cash in the district's Revloving Fund during the past year (from $100 to $2,000) and its use "to a great extent for travel expenses and advances."

He recommended the district adhere to instructions prepared by the Audits Division, State Department of Finance, which states expenditures from the Revolving Fund "should include only items which cannot be handled through normal warrant procedure."

Last October this newspaper first reported several examples of what Board Trustee Peter T. Galiano called "disturbing travel expenditures" within the district.

Included were expenses resulting from a four-day school conference at San Francisco's Hilton Hotel Nov. 29 to Dec. 4, 1965 attended by members of the Jefferson Elementary School Board.

Breakdown of the trustees' expenses revealed Galiano was reimbursed $2.40 for travel (24 miles at ten cents a mile) and 75 cents for tolls, parking, etc.

Trustee Thomas F. Noonan was reimbursed $157 for the same conference: $16 for travel (160 miles), $98.50 meals, $17 bridge tolls, parking, etc., and $25 for "other expenses."

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas received $150.25 reimbursement: $15.50 for travel (155 miles), $97.50 meals, $17 bridge tolls, parking etc., and $20.25 for "other expenses."

Another trustee attending the meeting was Joseph Lewkowitz who spent $152.50: $15 travel (150 miles), $99.75 Meals, $12.50 bridge tolls, parking, etc., and $25.25 for "other."

A two-day trip to southern California by Board Chairman George Perry and Noonan, in which both trustees drove personal cars to their destination, was likewise outlined. The trip was made to interview several prospects for the then-vacated district superintendent's position.

Perry was reimbursed $303.25 and Noonan $300 for the July, 1965 trip.

In addition to charging the district $145 for travel, Perry's breakdown of expenses included $42 lodging, $20 bridge tolls, parking etc., $35.75 for taxis and $60.50 meals.

Noonan drove 1,343 miles and was reimbursed $53.07 for lodging, $92.63 for meals and $20 for bridge tolls, parking etc.

There'll be a circus type atmosphere at Westlake Shopping Center February 14 through 18, when Pacific Telephone unveils a free tent show, packed with unique displays of communication marvels for the entire family.

Visitors will have a chance to win a demonstration (free) long distance telephone call to any location in the continental United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

Hours for the tent show will be: February 14—10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; February 15 — 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m.; February 16 — 10:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.; February 17 — 10:30 a.m. to 9 p.m., and February 18 — 10:30 to 5 p.m.

In addition, visitors will be able to see themselves on television, listen to how they sound on the telephone, and play Tic-Tac-Toe with a computerized telephone relay device that has never lost to a human opponent.

For the scientifically minded, exhibits will demonstrate satellite communications, microwave, and the laser — a device which some day may carry millions of telephone calls on a single beam of light.

DALY CITY Scoutmaster Bob McBride, Troop Committee Chariman Fred Adams and Institutional Representative Karl Ostberg talk over plans for Boy Scout Sunday. Troops 84 and 259 and Cub Pack 84 will participate in services at Broadmoor Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Herbert Tweedie and Scout Executive Tex Guess to speak at 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m. services.

Cap Beats Falcons: Ahead By Half Game

Falcons Beaten 95-84

By JOHN HORGAN
Times-Post Sports Writer

A one-half game lead in the Mid-Peninsula League basketball race might not seem like much but Capuchino High School will settle for it this week.

A hard fought 95-84 victor over tough run-and-shoot Crestmoor last week in San Bruno, Cap now leads the MPL by that slim margin. The Mustangs are now 5-1, compared to 4-1 for both Hillsdale and San Mateo.

Cap got 23 points from the superlative Jimmy Kauffman, including six key markers in a Mustang rally late in the game that brought the Mustangs back into a commanding 76-70 lead they never relinquished.

"We thought we had better personnel than Crestmoor but we did not expect them to shoot so well," commented Capuchino mentor, Jimmy Johnson, after the game. "We got good efforts out of our two centers, Owen McCumber and Rick Oliveiria, Roger Carmine and, of course, Kauffman."

Aiding the Cap cause was the fact that two of the key Falcon front-liners, Don Broga and Larry Grant, receipted for five personal fouls in the second half and were forced to exit the contest. Broga left first at 5:23 of the third quarter and Grant at 6:53 of the fourth.

Crestmoor got a game-high 26 points from forward Jerry Kollmann, but the Falcon senior missed seven of his 13 free throw attempts, something of a surprise since he currently leads the MPL in foul shooting and total foul shots attempted and made.

Crestmoor also got 18 points from little guard, Steve Griffith, who played what Johnson called "that boy's best league game of the year."

Carmine, Cap's fine junior forward, garnered 17 rebounds and 16 points

NPL BASKETBALL

North Loop Race Still Deadlocked

The North Peninsula League's blurry basketball picture will clear up a great deal this week after the league's top three squads kept loos last week against the second dividion clubs.

Thursday night Westmoor and Terra Nova High Schools upped their league records to a 6-1 with impressive victories while South San Francisco, 5-1, drew a bye.

Terra Nova prepped for its big game with the defending champion Warriors today by dumping winless Half Moon Bay, 76-43, on the Tigers' home court. The league's leading scorer, forward Jim Bresnahan, pumped though 22 points to lead the Tigers to the romp.

The Cougars were never in the contest as the Tigers outscored them 37-16 in the first half. Substitutes played out the rest of the game.

Westmoor High School, meanwhile, had it a little tougher against the Jefferson Indians but came out on top of a 48-37 verdice.

As usual, it was the torrid outside shooting of Dennis Rocca-forte and Joe Anible that highlighted the Ram attack.

The Indians closed to within four points for the final time with three-minutes left in the game but failed to convert on three straight one-and-one foul situations.

The most exciting game of the day was between two also-rans, Oceana and El Camino. The Colts got their second win of the season with a thrilling 52-51 win over the Sharks.

El Camino, now 2-5, stuttered through a lethargic first period which saw the Colts score but four points. Oceana burst ahead before intermission to take a 14-point advantage, 32-18.

But the Colt attack caught fire in the final periods as guard Steve Jones led both the offense and the defensive press. The Colts finally caught the fading Sharks at 48-all with just three minutes left when Bill Godkin sank a free throw.

El Camino then jumped ahead 52-50 with just 10-seconds left on Jones' 15-foot jumper. With six-seconds left on the clock Oceana's Mike Burger was fouled.

Burger hit one shot, to bring the score to 52-51.

JEFF HIGH'S Mike Furtch, number 45, exhibited the form of a ballet dancer Thursday in this scramble for the ball against a hoard of Westmoor players. Westmoor won the game, 48-37, and the Rams retained their position in a three-way tie for first place in the North Peninsula League. (Post Photo)

Rams in Crucial Game With Colts

By DENNIS KLEIN
Westmoor Correspondent

With one eye on the NPL Crown and the other on the El Camino Colts, the Westmoor High Rams will play another "crucial" game today; crucial because the NPL title is still anbody's, and crucial because a loss could drop the Rams out of the three-way tie for first place.

Ram coach Tony Giamona could almost have relaxed Friday night when his varsity quintet demolished the Jefferson Indians—48-37, before a packed house on the Ram court.

The only time the Indians were really anywhere close was at the opening tip-off, though they did make a valiant effort in the fourth quarter.

In first quarter Ram Dennis Rockaforte had the "hot hands," gunning in 6 points on unbelieveably long jump shots. Joe Anibale also helped the cause by hitting on two long set shots.

The game was actually decided under the boards. The Rams, with Grady Proctor, Narvis Thompson, and Gary Soules all rebounding aggressively, contained the Indians who usually got only one shot at the basket.

In the second quarter the Westmoor team cooled off a little and the Indians began to score. At the end of the first half, the Rams lead 19-12.

The third quarter saw both teams scoring freely. The Rams' Gary Soules tallied three baskets, while Schrock, and Furtch lead the scoring for the Indians.

The final period, by far the most exciting, saw both teams make more mistakes than in all three previous periods combined. As it turned out, the Rams converted more Indian mistakes into baskets.

The Indians made it something of a game when they rallied to come withing five points of the Rams, but it was never really close.

In the final period, the Indians' Furtch scored six points to give him 11 for the night, while high scorers for the Rams were Dennis Rockaforte and Gary Soules with 9 each.

The frosh-soph game between the two schools turned out to be a real battle with the Jeff Indians emerging victorious 45 to 40. The Indians' Kirby lead all scorers with 17 while Orlich of the Rams had 12.

Distance Running

Le Pacini

To help disprove the hackneyed theories of adults that prep athletes don't think and are soft and that high school journalists are concerned only about who dated whom and when, we for the next couple of weeks, will reprint excerpts from "think" pieces written by Steve Wilson (NOT of the Illustrated Press), Sports Editor of the Terra Nova Tiger Tales Magazine.

Wilson, a mid-term graduate now attending CSM, was an outstanding distance runner, also wrote editorials and took pictures for his school magazine and newspaper, was a good enough artist to have designed the Tales' magazine's first cover, and had the lead in the school play, "The Crucible."

In the following piece he was writing of the rigors of long distance running:

"Running either track or cross-country is one of the most gruelling of all sports. The competition is so great that . . . a runner today has to work twice as much as runners of, say, 10 years ago. Many runners cover at least 100 miles a week. Runners who fall into that category are world class athletes.

" . . . At Terra Nova . . . cross-country runners do at least seven miles a day. . .

"Running in a workout is one kind of mental and physical strain, but running in a meet is a completely different experience. . . .

"During the race itself the height of physical and mental pain is reached.

"The runner will find he is pushing himself to what he thinks to be his limit, and then he finds that he has to push even further. It is at this point that a runner will want to give up, but knows that he can't. His legs will feel like they are on fire. His joints will burn. His lungs will sting from breathing so fast and hard.

"During the race itself the height of physical very rugged ground. Hills and downhills are the hardest for a runner. When he is running up a hill his legs will become tired very fast. When on a downhill his whole body will be in pain as if he were being beaten.

"All of these mental and physical pains are peculiar to the runner and alien to other athletes, and while runners may appreciate an audience, they find rooters less important than in other sports.

"Then why does he do what he does when only he and the few people in his sport know what it's like?

"He runs because he is a person of an internal strength which I feel is unmatched by athletes in any other sport, because despite the wracking pain to which his body is subjected, he feels a freedom known by no other athlete on earth, because when he wins, without the aid of eight or ten teammates, he knows that he hasn't conquered just twenty or thirty other athletes, but that he has conquered himself."

We believe it was Robert Culp — star of the television series "I Spy" and a fine East Bay pole vaulter as a prep — who said, recently, "Track is a loner's sport."

Next week Wilson discusses the philosophy — or, rather, what the philosophy SHOULD be — of high school sports.

WE WONDER if there's a correlation between long distance running and academic achievement. Ray Baxter, another Terra Nova distance man, also graduated mid-term as the only student in the history of the school — and one of the very few in the district's history — to ever have a perfect 4.0 grade point average. Which means he never got anything below an "A." And that includes physical education, an area in which "brains" are not supposed to excel.

That isn't all. Baxter was also Editor-in-Chief of the school newspaper and magazine, the first and only student to ever hold the position in his junior year and the first and only to ever hold it for more than one year. He was also, we believe, the only non-senior among the host of North County kids last year who were honored as Most Valuable Staffers by the Times and Post. He was also the first and only boy cheer leader at TN.

Baxter, who's already been offered scholarships by two large Eastern universities, plans to major in journalism, and we hope the powers that be let him. This doesn't exactly have anything to do with sports, but it does with journalism, and that's what this column is.

The point: it's almost inevitable that somewhere along the line someone will tell Baxter that he has too much talent for journalism, that he should become a doctor or lawyer or scientist. He'll be told this by the same person who continually grips about his morning newspaper being written by illiterates.

OTHER LOCAL NOTES: Tom Heckmann, an Oceana sports writer, is a cousin of Joel Heckmann, a former prep all-star pitcher and an outstanding pro prospect at San Francisco State back in the '50's before an arm injury halted his career . . . Pacifican Elmer Harris recently won the low net division of the Tucson National Seniors' Invitational Golf Tournament.

The California Buick:

For years Buick has been in California studying Californians.
You can buy a copy of their findings for under $3280.00*

When a Californian builds Buicks in California, he isn't likely to be thinking of the snow in Maine. So the birth of the California GS was a natural happening. We gave it plenty of power (a 340 cu. in. V-8 engine). We insisted on a Super Turbine automatic transmission as standard equipment. (This Buick invention does to long trips what California oranges do to breakfast.) We tailored a jaunty look by covering the top with black vinyl and the wheels with chrome. We gave it a tinted windshield. (We love the California sun, too, but . . .). Why don't you take a California GS on your next trip east?

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price including 340-4, 220 hp V-8 engine, Super Turbine transmission • air injector reactor • performance axle without positive traction (3.23 ratio) • Ride and handling option • Soft-ray tinted windshield • Chrome-plated wheels • Belt reveal and wheel opening molding • appearance group, deluxe steering wheel and carpeting front and rear • Custom vinyl top covering • rear quarter belt moldings and roof drip molding • GS ornamentation package. Also includes Federal Excise Tax, suggested delivery and handling charge and transportation charges. Other accessories and optional equipment, state and local taxes are additional.

Westlake Bowl

By JAMES GREALISH

When will Bob Grout stop? That's the question being asked by Westlake Bowlers as he rolled his second 300 game in two weeks and his third since November 21, all on different pairs of lanes. His latest effort took place in a match game last Monday afternoon as he started with a 225 game, shot a perfect second game then finished withh 269 for a 794 series. With games like this, his 191 average will soon be approaching the 200 mark.

In the Starliters Ladies League, Bess Marston came within three pins of hitting the six hundred mark. She set a new high series for the league with 597 on games of 200-171-226.

New high game and series marks were set in the AFL-CIO League last week, this time by Marsh Cull with a great 278 game and 656 series.

Fred Spizarsky had two-thirds of a tremendous triplicate as he shot 191 in his first two games then a 232 for 614 i the Pfizer and Friends League. A great 236 game and 638 series by Hank Dosdorian led the Northgate Mixed Fives last week. Other high rollers were Ray King 222-630, Gus Kireopoulis 230-622 and Dottie Hamilton 190-523.

Verle Dillon was the leading lady in the Invitational League with a 204 game and 583 series.

Butch Jones averaged over 200 as he topped the 510 Scratch Trio League with a four game total of 803.

The San Francisco Baseball Old-Timers Association hosted the annual Bay Area Tournament last Saturday at Westlake Bowl as members and guests from Santa Clara and Oakland joined the local members.

Impressive Show at Cow Palace

By GARRY NIVER
Post Sports Writer

If you can't find it in the Yellow Pages, you could perhaps find it at the National Sports and Boat Show.

The gigantic exposition opened a ten-day run at Daly City's Cow Palace Friday afternoon and the mammoth arena and its added halls provided barely enough room to accommodate the countless displays.

The exhibits ranged from expensive doll houses to Alaskan vacation lands, with the only thing missing being flying brooms for Hallowe'en witches.

The massive display officially opened at 12 noon with Mrs. T. J. Fabik, assisted by her husband, Rear Admiral Fabik, commander of the 12th Naval District, busting the traditional bottle of champagne against the bow of the 43-foot Chris Craft Corinthian, the queen ship of the show. Pretty boat show queen Laurie Forbush also lent her sparkle to the grand opening of the 25th annual show.

While there were many varying types of exhibitions, the emphasis was on boating, hunting, fishing and campaing.

The main arena was filled with huge luxury craft and sailboats of all forms and sizes. The Corinthian is powered by twin 300-horse power Chris Craft V-8 engines and has a sleeping capacity for eight. Included among the displays for the sail boat fan is the little Sea Snark. Made of Polystyrene, the small craft is just 11-feet long and is retailed at $99.75.

In the North Hall, Chryser Motors features its large line of powerful inboard engines and boats, with the largest being a 290-horse power V-8. Canoes, which seem to be making a comeback, outboards and water ski equipment also hold forth in the North Hall.

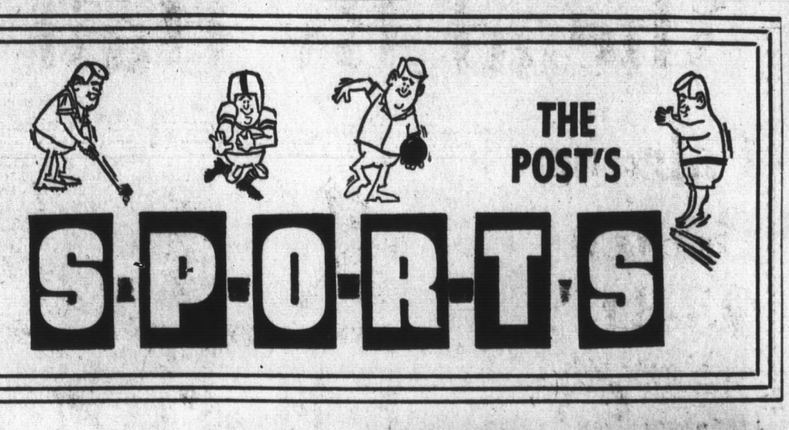
Fishing equipment, of all sizes, sorts and shapes, prevails in the South Hall along with more outboards and hunting equipment.

The hydrocycles, a motor-powered one-seater which is much like a motorcycle built for water, is in the foyer. Their motto is: "For instant fun, just add water."

Piper Cubs, a complete wooden Nordic Ski Chalet, with a $13,376 price tag on it, dollhouses and storage rooms pave the way into the Vacationland Halls and the Speed Marine hall. One of the features of the Speed Marine Hall is not the Bat Boat from television, but the complete collection of Winchester Rifles dating back to 1860.

The Vacationland halls include exhibits from just about every county in California, ranging from Ben Guiliano's Lake County display to Dodge Ridge Ski resort. Also bidding for the vacation dollar are booths, replete with cowboys and horses, from Arizona, Washington, Idaho, Colorado, Nebraska, Canada and Alaska.

Add to this impressive list a camper with a telescopic cover, a P.G. & E. putting green, a rubber raft sail boat, a fish pond loaded with trout for the kiddies, mini-boat racing in a 40-by-40-foot tub of water and you have a good idea what the 1967 Sports and Boat Show is all about.



Rams Finish Mat Season Undefeated

Westmoor High School's wrestling team completed a perfect season last Thursday with a 37-9 win over Oceana.

The victory gave Westmoor a 12 win, no loss record for the year, and the school's first perfect wrestling season.

Three varsity Ram wrestlers, seniors Bob Morris and Dick Thill and junior Burt Lanthier, completed the season undefeated.

Westmoor's junior varsity wrestlers also completed the season undefeated.

Burlingame Beats Jeff

Jefferson High School wrestlers dropped a close 29-26 meet to Burlingame last week.

Burlingame won four matches by pins and three by points. The Indians also took four by pins, but only two on points.

Art of Integrated Digital Flexibility

"Bureaucratise" — the official language of the government administrator (and a growing number of industrial managers) — long has been the object of mirth, jest and frustration by the public. There are those who are convinced that one just doesn't talk that way unless he has been to some special school majoring in gobbledygook.

Perhaps they are right. It is something of an art to talk about integrated digital flexibility without the slightest concept of the meaning of the words.

Trouble is, no one dares to challenge such speakers, because certainly responsive logistical mobility sounds as if it ought to mean something, doesn't it? Well, Armed Forces Management magazine has blown the whistle on bureaucrats with double-jointed tongues.

The secret, says the publicaton, is a "buzz phrase generator." The generator is nothing more than three columns of 10 words each. Each of the columns is numbered from 0 to 9. Now, all one does is choose any three digit number (349, for example) and find the words corresponding to the numbers.

Column 1 has these words: integrated, total, systematized, parallel, functional, responsive, optimal, synchronized, compatible and balanced. Column 2: management, organizational, monitored, reciprocal, digital, logistical, transitional, incremental third-generation, and policy. Column 3: options, flexibility, capability, mobility, programming, concept, time-phase, projection, hardware, and contingency.

There it is in one easy lesson. As one U.S. senator (who shall remain nameless) has said, "Suddenly you sound as if you know what you're talking about."

FIFTH AND SIXTH graders of the Wesley Methodist Church's Sunday school will hear Dr. Sydney Anderson, a prominent San Francisco missionary who has spent much of his last 45 years in China, February 12. The 2 p.m. talk and slide-showing will cover the last 12 years that Dr. Anderson spent in Hong Kong — helping refugees and assisting with construction of a Methodist Church. The public is invited to the talk at Wesley, 1474 Southgate, Daly City. Pictured (above) with Dr. Anderson are youngsters (left to right) Karen Silvestri, Elizabeth Fields, teacher Mrs. Jeffrey Bell and Jack Call. Below, the same Sunday school class is pictured at the birthday party for six foster children of a Daly City family. The foster children represent a year-long "project" for the fifth and sixth graders, who began helping the youngsters at Christmas.

County Service Center In Sight

Frank LaPierre

FUED FOR THOUGHT: Watch a new movement getting under way in Daly City demanding more on-the-spot county services for the North County's 180,000-plus residents. Councilmen want to have a county service center in the area to better facilities citizens hereabouts, instead of 35 miles away in Redwood City. No cost estimates regarding operation of such a center have been made — yet!

JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL has put out feelers for a larger building to house its presently crushed staff. The "ideal" structure would be rented on a long-term lease from the builder. Superintendent Edward Morgan suggested a style similar to the new Post Office with parking beneath.

WHY CAN'T THEY synchronize those signal lights on Alemany Boulevard? John Donovan wants to know. Frankly we haven't the answer. According to Donovan it takes only 12 minutes to motor from downtown San Francisco to the Westlake turnoff on the Junipero Serra Freeway — and several more minutes to drive from the freeway to Skyline Boulevard.

JIM DANDY GYM: A weekly average of 662 persons used the Westmoor Gym last year, Chuck Vincent revealed in a year-end report. Teen dances at the gym accounted for some 7,000 with basketball leagues running a fair second with 5,120.

DOWN AND DOWN: Builders have another bleak outlook in the year ahead. According to the recent PG&E annual forecast housing construction will slump another 10 per cent in 1967 throughout the Bay Area.

SHERIFF MATT CARBERRY says that trickle of marajuana seeping into San Bruno jail (S.F. County No. 2) can be stopped. All he needs is more guards. "My daughter says some kids at her school carry that much 'stuff' around in their pockets," Carberry volunteered during a recent sidewalk chat on the recent dope raid at the jail. School kids we can understand! But prisoners?

DALY CITY PLANNER Ed Lawson says use permits are NOT required for car washes in C-2 zoned lots. The washes fall under the "building permit" category.

THAT ABAG MEET was held the other p.m. in San Bruno with all North County cities alertly in attendance — with the exception of one. The lone representative of the area's largest city (others came out in force) kept sleepily nodding his head.

South San Francisco's Andy Rocca made his stand on the Bay Conservation and Development Commission clearly understood by all: "They think more of two fish and a few birds than they do of people."

And ABAG's discussion of San Francisco's airport problems should be interesting, some councilmen ventured. Especially if Oakland, Alameda and other East Bay cities huddle on the problem.

"Can't you just see Oakland trying to solve our airport problems when she's got her own White Elephant over there?" a councilman commented.

Comics Cut Up

Barbara Bladen

WILLIAM CASTLE IS A PRODUCER in the fullest sense of the word. He anticipates tastes, studies the box office figures, travels, uses his instincts about unknowns, talks to teen-agers and tries to understand the times.

And then he isn't always right. But out of 108 films, 14 with his own company, he's come up with a high percentage of successes.

Latest on his schedule is "The Busy Body," a merrily macabre mystery comedy in which Sid Caesar, Robert Ryan, and Anne Baxter head an impressive cast which includes Kay Medford, Jan Murray, Richard Pryor, Arlene Golonka, Charles McGraw, Ben Blue, Godfrey Cambridge and Marty Ingels with special cameo appearances by Bill Dana and George Jessel.

Described as a joyous spoof of modern gangsters, the film is a departure from the series of macabre movies which earned him the title, "The Gimmick Genius."

"A good director directs the audience when to scream not the actors," he explained to the critics yesterday. "There are two days of doing shockers. The unexpected or Hitchcock 'Psycho' method or the backing away from the unexpected method until the audience is so keyed up to see it, they react strongly when it finally comes."

THE DIRECTOR-PRODUCER described Sid Caesar as "not temperamental but fighting within himself to be perfect. He's very moody and I had to keep telling him to let the comedy come to you, it's a wide screen and you can't be larger than life. He fought me on comedy timing and he turned out to be right."

He terms the difference between using Joan Crawford in "Strait Jacket" and Sid Caesar in "The Busy Body" as the former being a commodity and the latter an uncertain commodity.

"The most difficult thing in the world is working with a lot of comedians in the same film. They go insane when left alone in a simple scene. It's complicated by the fact that the crew and technicians are laughing at them cutting up. Then I have to play God and decide what is funny within the context of the story."

He continued, "It's such a temptation to print a cut-up scene and use it. But its bad picture making if it isn't pertinent to the story. Otherwise you're making Abbott and Costello films if you don't hold to that ideal that the play is the thing."

WHAT MOST PEOPLE don't realize about the picture business these days if that 50 per cent of the audience is made up of young people 25 years or younger. In Los Angeles alone, 70 per cent of the audiences are teen-agers.

That's why he insists that pictures like "Pillow Talk" won't make it anymore. The happy family situation comedy is on its way out. And to keep up with these trends, Castle says he watches television and then does the opposite when he begins a new picture.

He should know what he's talking about. He was 18 years old when he directed "Dracula" on Broadway, won the New York Film Critics Award as the finest mystery film of the year for "The Whistler," won acclaim for "Homicidal," "The Cat and the Canary," and such radio series of the mid-thirties as "Lights Out."

How about a guy who gets delight from scaring people half out of their wits? We who delight in getting scared at a good movie salute him. They're still my favorite type of light entertainment, if they aren't too corny. And I'll always take a straight thriller-drama or suspense-comedy over a science fiction-monsters-from-outer-space story, I like old-fashioned scares.

A Geographical Knack

Westmoor High School freshmen have proven they have a knack for making eye watching geographical displays.

The assignment: Make a visual presentation on the Far East which would be informative.

With these instructions, the students worked on their displays for about three weeks and came out with original creations.

Among the most unusual is a gem of "Intrigue," constructed by Barbara Bogatin. This dimensional board game is complete with mountains, valleys, and roads. The goal of four players is to scale Mt. Everest.

Another different display is Holly O'Hare's comparision of the old and new India. Constructed from travel posters, postcards and pictures, the collage is a mass of scenes and colors.

A model of a rice paddy by Sandy Mongraw and a Japanese Garden by Annette Reed are also three-dimensional originals.

All types of topographical migratory and racial maps decorate the Westmoor classroom. A wall hanging with Japanese callegraphy and numbers by Lisa Kaplan are a part of the collection.

This new twist to the usual Far East unit of freshman geography was tried by Mrs. Hildegard Seidel. Mrs. Seidel was able to give her enriched geography class an extra touch of enthusiasm for the subject because she herself has been in the Orient twice.

"The results indicate tremendous amount of thought and real hard work," she said.

Dedicated to You— Up and Coming...

Samuel Chandler

Call Me Mister, by Barry James, is dedicated to "you, the up and coming young man."

For an age that spanned the beatnik and the "mod," it spells out the ground rules of "interpersonal relationship."

"Today," the author writes, "sharp competition in all areas makes personal attention necessary. Men must overcome many obstacles to their ultimate goals. When all other things are equal, personality and appearance will decide between success and failure."

Unit one, on grooming, is divided into sections that spell out the principles of care for teeth, skin, hair, hands, and feet. Shaving methods are discussed. One whole chapter is devoted to a discussion of haircuts and the principles of selecting the right way to wear one's hair.

ON PAGE 10 there is a grooming check list with twelve parts. In some circles several items may seem outmoded: are you clean-shaven? is your hair well trimmed? etc., but Mr. James holds that society demands that a man wear his hair in a fashion that will achieve for him the most attractive appearance. He states that a well-groomed man never allows his hair to grow shaggy.

Speaking of beards he writes that today to be unshaven is to be only one step away from being unclean.

At first it may seem that some items on Mr. James' grooming check list are too elementary: do you brush your teeth twice a day? Are your hands clean and smooth? Are you careful to prevent offensive body order? But are they?

Unit three is entitled the Wardrobe. The author holds that dressing properly is an investment, and although it need not be expensive, clothing dollars well-spent pay dividends in success. The ground rule for the alert young man is "to wear clothing that will always make him look his best." This involves simply knowing what is correct and conventional for given occasions.

THE CHECK LIST pertaining to clothing contains ten items that the author believes to be the foundation of good taste. They include changing socks and underwear daily, avoiding wearing soiled shirts, wilted collars, dirty shoes, unpressed suits. Number ten is —Do you make a real effort to dress suitably for your chosen career?

"Good taste in dress is innate in some, acquired in others—but it can be developed by any man who wants it. And the place to start is with good grooming."

Unit two deals with manners for eating, and for social awareness and masculine graces. Unit four is on personality development.

Here nine traits of a good personality are listed: "Go out of your way to help other people, be dependable in doing what you say you will, be tolerant, do not attempt to dominate people, don't show off your knowledge, do not act and feel as if you are superior to your associates, be honest, do not be sarcastic, do not make fun of people."

Unit five is on speaking well; six deals with conduct while on the job.

A section in unit six is about relaxation. Here Mr. James writes that during each day a man's mental apparatus needs a chance to rest even more desperately that the physical machinery; so he advises that every man set aside a few minutes of the day (during a coffee break, for instance) to let his mind go completely blank. "Goofing off is one of the best mental pickups there is. So is whistling for that matter (when it won't disturb anyone else) or a quick trip to the washroom just to wash your hands. Any break in the routine will enable you to return to work fresher and more relaxed.

IN SEVERAL paragraphs on unwinding he advises against taking work home. He states that some successful ways to unwind are to play a record and really listen to it, go to a Western or get in a poker game, or a "bull session." Girls are one of the best, and most time-tested ways of relaxing, and if the girl happens to be your wife, so much the better." The point is to make yourself a calm and happy person. "You'll discover that you'll be working more productively, too."

'Raggedy Ann' Doll No Hazard

Lorene Beasley

The famous rag doll, Raggedy Ann, became the victim of mistaken identity Christmas, 1966 when newspapers, radios and television programs spread the word that some hundreds of thousands of plastic Raggedy Ann-type dolls, imported from Poland, were highly flamable.

The erroneous identification initially came from a bulleting issued by the New Jersey State Fire Prevention Association whose interest was solely that of protecting the buying public from purchasing a hazardous product.

The dolls were 15-16-inches long, costing less than $2. The brightly painted faces were made of nitro-celluse, an easily ignited plastic. Fire marshalls across the country checked store shelves for these imported dolls. More than 100 reports on the highly-inflamable European-made dolls were reported into the San Mateo County Sheriff's Department.

STATEMENTS issued by various news media have disassociated Raggedy Ann's name from any inference of danger and the authentic Raggeddy Ann was quickly and completely exonerated.

The reference to the doll in this column January 10, as a "plastic Raggedy Ann doll" imported from Poland was incorrect.

The Raggedy Ann Rag Doll is a copyright and trademark protected property made exclusively by the Knickerbocker Toy Company of 1107 Broadway, New York City. Any other rag doll simulating the genuine Raggedy Ann or using that name is in violation of Knickerbocker's rights. Knickerbocker's genuine Raggedy Ann is made of safe and sanitary materials that conform with all known health and safety requirements.

Unfortunately, the wide publicity given the imported dolls caused much confusion and resulted in the loss of sales of the authentic "Raggedy Ann Doll."

'Y' Forms Spring Events' Program

The San Mateo County YWCA spring program for 1967 starts on February 13, and emphasizes "new friends and fun."

Registrations are now being taken at the "Y" office in Daly City.

The Y's Half Day Specials include a Chinese New Year's Tour-luncheon on February 23, the "New for You" fashion show luncheon at the Friar room on March 7, and a tour of Sunset House and Gardens followed by a visit and luncheon at Allied Arts on April 13.

Spring classes for adults include tennis, swim-trim, oil painting, ballet, bowling and billiards, Hawaiian and Tahitian dance, bridge and guitar.

Teen and junior ages are offered guitar, ballet, Hawaiian dance, golf and tennis classes.

The pre-schoolers may participate in arts and crafts classes, the Creative Group activities and ballet classes.

Special this spring is the tour program for pre-schoolers. It provides an opportunity for the 4 to 6-year-olds to see some of the interesting places in the world around them.

Continuing will be the Parent Participation Nursery school for pre-school children under the supervision of the YWCA and skilled nursery instructors. This program provides active play and quiet restful activities for your child's personal development. Fingerpaint, clay, paste, dress-up, songs, dances, and rhythms along with outdoor play allow for creative expression in this group.

The YW-Wives and the Y Bridge Club will continue to meet on Thursdays, from 10 a.m. to noon at the Westlake Community Baptist Church. All women are cordially invited. Competent child care is provided at a small fee for these clubs.

Brochures, sign-ups, memberships, information and a friendly welcome will be found at the YWCA office, 375 South Mayfair, Daly City.

Younger Speaker At Lincoln Event

Reservations for more than 400 people have been received for the annual Lincoln Day dinner Friday at the San Mateo Elks Club. Mr. and Mrs. Ray T. Marsh, general chairmen, said the featured speaker will be Congressman J. Arthur Younger, who will fly out from the nation's capital for the dinner.

Younger will outline the plans of the Republican party for the coming two years.

The Lincoln Day dinner is sponsored by the San Mateo County Republican Central Committee and all of the volunteer Republican organizations active in the county.

EVAPORATED MILK

A six-ounce can of evaporated milk is the equivalent of two-thirds cup. So if a recipe calls for two-thirds cup of the undiluted milk, there's no need to measure; just use it straight from the can.

Pacificans Launch Valentine Ball Plans

Preliminary plans have been completed for Pacifica's Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball, sponsored by the sorority's city council.

A limited number of tickets are now available for the semi-formal dance and midnight buffet which will be held on Feburary 18 at Princeton Inn.

The Valentine Queen contest is a Beta Sigma Phi tradition which eventually extends far beyond Pacifica, since chapters all over the world may enter their chosen Queen in the International competition.

Candidates in this year's local competition, elected by the members of their respective chapters are: Donna Shapton, president of Xi Lambda Phi; Joyce McNulty, vice president of Tau Gamma; and Pat Dal Poggetto, president of Phi Epsilon Kappa.

Pacifica's Queen will be selected by the number of votes received through ticket sales and votes sold separately at the Ball.

Roy Mitchell, whose wife Angela is co-chairman, will be master of ceremonies. The winner will receive her crown from Dorothy Blasquez, president of Pacifica's Beta Sigma Phi City Council.

DENTAL HEALTH FACTS
"Cavities"

There are millions of bacteria in your mouth. Some are quite harmful because they act on sugars and other carbohydrates to form acids. These acids dissolve the enamel of the teeth. That is the beginning of tooth decay.

Unless decay is stopped by a dentist, who removes the decayed portion of the tooth and puts in a filling, decay proceeds from the enamel into the dentin and then into the pulp. Once the pulp has been infected, it may be too late to save the tooth.

Have your dentist check your teeth and take care of any cavities that may be present.

Dr. Campbell limits his practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for some; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

CALLING ALL HOMEMAKERS

By Donald C. Waite

DOES YOUR HOME HAVE A FRIENDLY ATMOSPHERE?

One of the most important things for any home or apartment to have is a "friendly atmosphere." But what can you do when you're decorating a room to help it have that friendly atmosphere? Here are some ideas.

The seating pieces — sofa and chairs — should be arranged or grouped to invite relaxed conversation.

Make sure your room is not too drab. Add a little color here and there and make it cheerful.

Little things such as colorful and serviceable ash trays are a help. Make sure your lamps furnish proper lighting aside from being decorative.

Shop for chairs that look inviting to sit in. Make sure you have some coffee and other tables that don't look too frail and unusable. Make sure there are table tops or other surfaces which can be used by guests without fear of causing damage.

It's an old custom to say "Make yourself at home" when your friends visit you, and if your home is decorated in a "friendly" way, you will help create that magic friendly atmosphere.

Speaking of friendly atmosphere — that's just what you will find at our store. Our salespeople are friendly and helpful and you're free to come in and browse around to your heart's content with no pressure or obligation. Come on in and see for yourself, or call us at PL 6-7500.

Frantic Feeling

Louanne Heath

SOMETIMES FEEL LOST when you try to understand your children? Most of us do feel frantic from time to time and so Arthur J. Winterhalter, parish lay theologian from Holy Angels, will begin directing a three-week symposium, Christian Parenthood, tomorrow in the parish hall, 107 San Pedro Road, Colma, at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Sidney J. Custodio, assistant pastor, St. Patrick's Church in San Jose, will give the first week's talk, a candid discussion of problems related to parents helping their children achieve a sound spiritual foundation through ordinary family life at home.

Winterhalter has announced that the second week the Rev. Loren A. Dwyer, teacher at Serra High School, San Mateo, will examine the ways in which teen-agers can be guided to maturity without discord. A discussion of the psychological adjustments both child and parents must make as the child matures will be presented.

Dr. Thomas E. Donnelly, M.D., of San Francisco, will conclude the series with a discussion of counseling, guidance and training which a parent must give a child to achieve sane sexuality without fear. A question and answer period for audience participation will follow each speaker's talk.

Winterhalter emphasized that the series will be offered free to the general public and no preregistration is required.

Sugar 'n Spice

Plain 'n' Fancy

Nell Norton

Good morning, good cooks.

Do you feel like some plain and fancy baking this morning? If you do, I have just the recipes for you to try. Both of these recipes came from Mrs. Gay Lambert who lives at 1731-41st. Avenue, in San Francisco.

Gay is an excellent cook and baker and many of my favorite recipes have come from her.

The cookie recipe makes six and a half dozen delicious, eye-appealing cookies. My daughter who loves candy, said, "The cookie is so good it doesn't even need the candy." And believe me that is high praise indeed.

CHOCOLATE CHIP KANDA COOKIES

1 cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup white sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 eggs
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 lb. candy coated chocolate bits.

Beat the one cup of margarine, add the one cup of brown sugar and half cup of white sugar, cream well. Next add the two teaspoonsful of vanilla and the two eggs. Beat. Sift together the two and one-half cups of flour, one teaspoon soda and one teaspoon salt. Add to creamed mixture and blend well.

Drop from teaspoon onto ungreased cookie sheet. Decorate each cookie by pressing four or five of the candy coated chocolate bits into each. Since the cookies are in a heap from being dropped from the spoon, you have to crowd the candy on the cookie. But as it bakes the cookie spreads and the result is a round brown cookie with polka-dots of color on top.

Bake in 375-degree oven 10 to 12 minutes.

DO YOU LIKE date-nut bread? It's always been a favorite of mine since I was a little girl (back in 1776) and my mother used to take me to a little tea room where they served dainty date-nut bread sandwiches with tea. I'm always on the lookout for new date-nut bread recipes and this one that Gay sent me is most delicious.

It has all the qualities to endear it to you good cooks. It's easy to mix and fix, has no exotic ingredients that require extra shopping time and makes two large loaves of bread. Or one large loaf baked in a tube pan. I halved the recipe and made one loaf, half of which I froze and used later.

DATE-NUT BREAD

2 cups boiling water
4 cups chopped dates
3 tablespoons butter
3 eggs
2 cups sugar
5 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Pour the two cups of boiling water over the four cups of chopped dates and add the three tablespoons of butter. Stir and mix until the butter is melted. Cool.

Beat the three eggs and two cups of sugar together until light. Sift the five cups of flour with the two teaspoons baking soda and two teaspoons salt. Save one tablespoon of flour and mix with nuts.

Add the sifted dry ingredients and the cooled date mixture to the creamed mixture, alternately, ending with the flour. Lastly add the chopped nuts and the teaspoon vanilla. Mix and pour into greased and floured pans.

Bake about one and a half hours in a 325-degree oven. Cool ten minutes and turn onto cake rack.

NOTE: When halving the recipe, use two eggs.

Lack of Pride Growing Here

A corresponding "disintegration of the neighborhood and the concept of community pride" is accompanying the alarming rise in juvenile delinquency and crime in San Mateo County, a probation official said last week.

County crime and delinquency prevention consultant John Piotti said the cities of today "are becoming like giant boarding houses, where people come and go without ever experiencing any human interaction."

Speaking at the first annual South San Francisco Police Athletic League Booster banquet, the probation official said adults have created a situation where modern society is taking on many of the characteristics of automation.

"Our young people are asking a lot of questions, and they are not getting the answers," he said. "Adults, who form the community leadership, have created a spiritual void. Adolescents have turned to each other in an attempt to fill this void. Nobody spots a phony more quickly than an adolescent."

"The principal missing ingredient in our society is demonstrative love. We have reached a point where young people are embarrassed at the mention of love," Piotti said.

He said teen-agers are turning to marijuana, LSD, and the "hippie scene" in order to escape the "prejudice and indiscretion of the world around them."

"They simply view these things as a way out of the void."

"It's true that the Beatles occupy a religious position in the adolescents' scheme of things," he said. "Such song titles as 'Come Walk With Me' and 'Let Me Hold Your Hand' are fair paraphrases of the words of Jesus Christ."

The probation official said it is important that adults "attempt to re-establish communication with the young people and re-create a sense of city and community pride" through such organizations as the Police Athletic League.

PAL Booster Club officers installed at the meeting were William Borba Sr., president; Remi Muyllaert, vice president, and Richard Lockard, secretary.

Oriental Forest Mushrooms Used Many Ways for International Gourmet Fare

Internationally minded hostesses who have seen the expressions of delight on their guests' faces after serving the succulent shii-ta-ke can be justifiably proud. Innovations in International cuisine is the challenge for the smart hostess today and no product lends itself so completely and differently than the Japanese Forest Mushroom (shii-ta-ke).

Our world is becoming one, gastronomically. Just as other products from far away lands have found themselves to be part of the American scene, such as imported automobiles, gloves, fabrics, etc., so too on the tables of the American hostess now we find a co-mingling of food from East and West. "East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet." How wrong could Kipling be?

There are two types of Japanese Mushrooms generally selected for export: Donko and Koshin.

Hana Donko has a broad umbrella, covered with white crevices suggesting a floral pattern. It is semi-spherical and has thick meat.

Donko is also semi-spherical but its umbrella is not as broad. It has thick meat and comes in two classifications: Jo Donko (best quality) and Nami Donko (standard quality).

Koskin has a partially open umbrella (dome shaped). The meat is somewhat thin. It comes in two classifications: Jo Koshin (best quality) and Nami Koshin (standard quality).

Suffice to say these are all delectable though the gourmet may prefer the Jo Koshin.

These Japanese Forest Mushrooms have a unique and different flavor, not to be compared to any others in the world.

It has generally proved of interest to devotees of the Japanese Forest Mushrooms their unique method of being spored artifically on the trunks of trees — such a method truly proves the genius of the Japanese horticulturist. But different and ingenious as the method of growth is, the "true excitement" in the Japanese Forest Mushroom is the tasting. Perhaps as a hot hors d'oeuvre, maybe between bits of shish-kabob or perhaps a review of the accompanying recipes will excite your taste buds.

MUSHROOM BEEF PIE

2 lb. beef stew meat
3 tablespoon flour
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon thyme
2 tablespoons oil
2 bouillon cubes
2 cup hot water
½ bay leaf
1 cup Japanese forest mushrooms (Shii-ta-ke)
1 cup small whole onions, peeled
Pastry

Cut beef in 1-inch cubes. Dredge with flour, salt, pepper and thyme. Brown in oil. Add bouillon cubes dissolved in water, and bay leaf. Cover and simmer about 1 hour. Meanwhile, cover mushrooms with warm water and let stand 15 minutes. Drain and quarter. Add to meat, along with onions, after meat has simmered for an hour, and cook until meat and vegetables are tender. Ticken gravy slightly, if desired. Meanwhile, prepare pastry, and roll to fit top of serving dish. Place on baking sheet and prick with fork. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 10 minutes, until nicely browned. Turn beef-mushroom mixture into serving dish and top with pastry crust. Makes about 6 servings.

Pastry: Combine 1 cup sifted all-pourpose flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Cut in 1-3 cup shotening. Add 2 to 3 tablespoons cold milk to make a stiff dough. (Or use 1 stick pastry mix, and add liquid as package directs.)

CHICKEN WITH MUSHROOMS, CHINESE STYLE

1 cup mushrooms
1 cup chicken broth
1 medium-size onion, quartered
1 medium-size green pepper
2 cups diagonally sliced celery
2 tablespoons oil
2 cups cooked chicken pieces
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons soy sauce
Hot cooked rice

Cover mushrooms with warm water and let stand 15 minutes. Drain and clip off stems. Quarter or slice large mushrooms. Add broth, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Meanwhile, separate onion into flakes, and core, seed and slice green pepper. Saute onion, celery and green pepper in oil about 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add mushrooms with broth, and chicken, and cook 5 to 10 minutes longer, just until vegetables are crisp-tender. Stir cornstarch into soy sauce. Add to vegetable mixture and simmer 2 or 3 minutes, until clear and slightly thickened. Serve over rice. Makes about 4 servings.

CURRIED MUSHROOMS WITH RICE

1 cup mushrooms
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons curry powder
¾ cup chopped celery
½ cup sliced green onion
1 (10½ oz.) can condensed chicken broth
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water
Hot cooked rice

Cover mushrooms with warm water and let stand 15 minutes. Drain and clip off stems. Melt butter with curry powder; add celery and onion and saute lightly. Add chicken broth and drained mushrooms; cover and simmer 15 minutes. Mix cornstarch with water and stir into mushroom mixture. Cook and stir until clear and tickened. Serve hot, over rice. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Note: One to two cups cooked chicken pieces or shrimp may be added for a heartier dish, if desired.

This Peachy Cheese Pie Scores Hit

Fruit pies have long been American favorites, and, when served with cheese, so much the better. A most unusual and flavorful dessert is this one made with plump peaches and zesty American blue cheese. The tangy cheese is blended into the flaky crust to provide a tantalizing basis for the spicy filling.

Serve Peachy Cheese Pie either warm or cold with an additional wedge of peppy American blue cheese.

PEACHY CHEESE PIE
(Makes 1 9-inch pie)

¼ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1¼ ounces)
1-3 cup shortening
1 cup sifted flour
3 tablespoons cold water
1 large can peach halves (No. 2½ can)
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter

Cut cheese and shortening into flour. Add water in small amounts, stirring lightly. Roll out on lightly floured cloth to ⅛ inch thickness. Press into pan. Flute edges.

Drain peaches and reserve syrup. Arrange peaches in pastry shell. Combine cornstarch, sugar, cinnamon and nutmeg. Add to syrup. Cook until thickened and clear. Add lemon juice and butter and mix well. Pour over peaches. Bake at 425 degrees for 40 minutes. Serve with wedge of American blue cheese.

An Orange Jelly Recipe

Serve a sweet cookie with this refreshing gelatin dessert.

Corned Beef Hash with Chili Sauce
Snap Beans Salad Bowl
Molded Orange Jelly
Raisin Date Oatmeal Bars

MOLDED ORANGE JELLY

2 cups orange juice
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup sugar
1 orange

In a medium mixing bowl, sprinkle the gelatin over 1 cup of the orange juice and allow to soften. Heat the remaining 1 cup of orange juice until very hot; pour over gelatin mixture; add sugar; stir to dissolve gelatin and sugar. Turn into 5 one-half cup molds. Chill until set. Unmold. Peel orange so no white membrane remains; cut away ends and then cut into 5 round slices; use as garnish for orange jelly. Makes 5 servings.

Chinese Seers See a Wooly Outlook for Upcoming Year of the Ram

For Chinese the world over the new year will begin on February 9, an instant after the stroke of midnight on February 8. It will be the 4665th year of the Chinese lunar calendar.

In the western hemisphere, the place where this event will have the biggest impact is San Francisco.

From February 18 through 26, while San Francisco's Chinese New Year festival is in full swing, Chinatown will resound with firecracker explosions and all kinds of colorful, clangorous goings-on, according to the San Francisco Convention and Visitors Bureau.

The drums will bang and the cymbals and gongs will clang as lion dancers cavort in the streets. Chinese-American beauties from all over the country will compete for the "Miss Chinatown USA" title.

At 7 p.m. on Saturday, February 25, the night of the annual New Year parade, a week-long wave of merrymaking will crest and sweep through the downtown streets in a glittering display of oriental pageantry.

What guise the new year will take in terms of omens and zodical signs is more difficult to say because of the ambiguities of the Chinese language.

The Chinese idograph meaning ram, lamb, sheep and goat is the same. And that's the sign which will dominate the year 4665.

Appropriately, the written character has two horn-like protrusions at the top and a goatee-like appendage at the bottom. Chinese calligraphers refer to the three cross strokes in between as the animal's eyes, nose and mouth.

If you want to distinguish between ram and lamb, for example, you make up-gliding noises sounding like "seeuh" and "gung" before the word "yueun," which is Cantonese for ram, lamb, sheep and goat. Unless, of course, you speak Mandarin, in which case you would pronounce it "yang."

Since the written form for all four animals is the same, Chinese almanacs list the forthcoming year variously as the Year of the Ram, Lamb, Sheep and Goat.

San Francisco has opted for the Year of the Ram. The proud, honred head of a male sheep will embellish street banners, window placards and parade floats during San Francisco's nine-day festival.

This still leaves Chinatown's oracles on the horns of a dilemma.

Under the circumstances, they are hesitant to prophesy whether the new year will come in rambunctiously, docilely or sheepishly. (Since it will extend into 1968, an election year, it seems safe to say that a good deal of bleating will be heard through the land.)

When all of the wool is stuffed into one bag, however, certain pointers become clear for the new year

According to local Chinese savants, the lamb signifies filial devotion because it kneels to receive nourishment from the ewe. Ergo, parents hould be treated with the utmost respect and consideration.

"Yeun Neen" (the Year of the Ram) seems to bode ill for egoists. The lamb was a sacriifcial object in China as far back as 22 B.C. Inasmuch as it is said to accept death submissively, it is considered a symbol of acquiescence and self-denial. Therefore, unselfish behaviour and selfless service will be looked upon with great favor during 4665.

The prospects are pleasing for farmers, doctors and senior citizens.

Agrarian prosperity is foreseen because the sheep has the five most important domestic animals in the lunar cycle. The others "on whose cooperation agriculture largely depended" were the horse, boar, ox and cock. In ancient China, lambs were ceremoniously displayed to ward off drought. Canton, the City of Rams, derives its nickname from a legend which credits the five sacred stone rams enshrined in the center of the city with safeguarding the region against famine.

Various medicinal powers are attributed to the ovine species. A ritual known as a sheep dance was performed to dispel sickness, and the scrapings of a ram's horn are coveted even today as a remedy for measles and fever.

It is believed that persons born under the sign of the ram possess a strong instinct to help others and make good doctors. They are also said to be proud and domineering.

The good word for oldsters is that the sheep symbolizes retired life and complacent satisfaction.

A lamb figurine is considered a suitable gift for a bride-to-be because young sheep are associated with happiness and purity. However anyone born under the sign of the lamb is cautioned to think twice before marrying a tiger.

Rams represent pleasure, for a good reason. Their horns were used as drinking in olden times.

The forthcoming year undoubtedly augurs well for the woolen industry. In imperial China lamb skin garments were something of a status symbol. It was high style to be seen at court in "lamb's wool, glossy as the rays of dawn" or in "the skins of the young lamb sewn with white silk of five and twenty strands."

The Year of the Ram replaces the Year of the Horse (1966). Other symbolic animals in the Chinese zodiac order are monkey (1968), rooster, dog, pig, rat, ox, tiger, rabbit, dragon and snake. Each is honored once in every 12 years. The cycle began in 2637 B.C.

Busy Day Green Bean Casserole

Turn ordinary vegetables into gourmet foods with the simple addition of pungent American blue cheese. This delicately sharp specialty cheese lends a flavorsome change to everyday foods.

Here is a casserole recipe calling for nutritious green beans, succulent mushrooms, spicy tomato sauce and tangy American blue cheese. This casserole is an excellent busy-day dish as it can be prepared ahead of time and popped into the oven just one-half hour before dinner.

BUSY-DAY BEAN CASSEROLE
(Serves 4)

1 5-ounce can mushrooms, drained
¼ cup onion, chopped
⅛ cup butter
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon sweet basil flakes
3 cups green beans, cooked
¼ cup corn flake crumbs

Cook mushrooms and onion in butter until tender. Remove from heat and add tomato sauce, blue cheese, salt, pepper and basil. Mix with green beans. Fill buttered 1-quart casserole with beans. Sprinkle crumbs on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes or until bubbly throughout.

A Meatless Casserole For the File

Is your recipe file for meatless dishes becoming somewhat jaded? Well, here is a recipe that will renew interest in meatless day foods for you and your family.

Versatile Casserole has endless possibilities. This particular recipe calls for shrimp and tender asparagus. You will be able to "create" new combinations of this theme with tuna, salmon, green beans, and broccoli. The key to success with this delectable casserole is the subtly sharp flavor of American blue cheese. This tangy blue-marbled cheese is a wonderful accent for almost all vegetables, fish and meat.

VERSATILE CASSEROLE

1 package frozen asparagus spears, cooked and drained
1 cup mushrooms, cooked and chopped
1½ pounds cooked shrimp
3 cups white sauce, thick
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
¼ cup Parmesan cheese, grated

Place asparagus spears in buttered baking dish. Mix mushrooms, shrimp, white sauce and blue cheese together. Pour over asparagus. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes or until lightly browned and bubbly.

Federal Grant Of $24,250 For Daly City

Congressman J. Arthur Younger has announced a federa grant for beautification of public areas in Daly City. The amount is $24,250.

The project will cover landscaping for the new Daly City Civic Center. Also, it will pay for trees and planters on San Pedro Road and Westlake Avenue, landscaping of two pumping stations and the reservoirs, improving playground areas in Serramonte, landscaping of Sullivan Avenue, and for making a variety of park improvements throughout the city.

The grant was made through the department of Housing and Urban Development.

The federal grant represents 50 per cent of the $48,500 cost of the beautification which is in excess of the normal Daly City budget for such matters, Younger said.

Mayor Bernard Lycett and City Mgr. Edward Frank were notified of teh award by the congressman this morning and expressed their appreciation. "The work will enhance the beauty of the community," they told Younger.

Younger previously secured grants for Los Prados Park in San Mateo, a park in East Palo Alto, and a similar grant for the City of Pacifica.

Younger is presently seeking a grant to expand the East Park recreation center in San Mateo, and a park project in Burlingame, as well as several others throughout San Mateo County.

Development Unit Fights Incinerator

Action was taken last week by the Executive Committee of the San Mateo County Development Association, Inc., firml opposing the placing of a $2-million garbage inceration plant adjacent to the South San Francisco Industrial Park and the Cabot, Cabot & Forbes Industrial Park in South San Francisco.

In a letter to Frank J. Bertucelli, mayor of South San Francisco, Henry Bostwick, general manager of the local industrial development organization, stated that an incinerator in that specific area would be extremely detrimental "to the present operations of the many fine firms that have huge investments in light manufacturing, warehousing and distribution facilities" that have chosen these two parks as a place to do business.

Bostwick outlined the support that the Development Associaton has given in the proper development of environmental factors that have attracted industries to San Mateo County and stated that the organization had an obligation to existing industry and prospective new business to "maintain and protect these environmental factors."

In reaching this official decision, the Executive Committee of the Association also stated that it recognized that properties must be made available for incinerator installations and waste disposal uses and offered its services as an organization in attempting to locate a suitable site for the South San Francisco Scavengers to operate economically and efficiently the important service it renders to the community.

Car Plunges Over Cliff

William C. Price, 28, 347 San Diego Street, Daly City, is in Mary's Help Hosptal with injuries suffered when his late-model car plunged over a 100-foot cliff behind the Sea Bowl in Pacifica early today.

Price, Pacifica police said, said he was west bound on Fassler Avenue when his car failed to negotiate a sharp curve.

The driver received cuts of the right leg and complained of pains of the back.

Negro History For Pacificans

The Medger Evers Negro History Club will present a program in the multi-purpose room of Fairmont School on Thursday, February 9 at 8 p.m.

The program includes poetry and songs which will relate the dreams and aspirations of the American Negroes. Along with the program they will bring in an art exhibit, showing the history of Negroes in paintings and photographs.

The public is invited.

Bulbs Are Gay, Dependable Flowers for Summer Garden

By IVA NEWMAN

Some of the gayest, most dependable summer flowers are those that come from bulbs. Indeed, if we think only in terms of tulips, hyacinths and daffodils when we think of planting bulbs we miss some very exciting garden flowers.

When we speak of bulbs for summer flowers we use the term loosely for our thoughts include corms, rhizomes, bulbous roots, and tubers. Nurserymen and growers have helped to train our thinking for their "bulb" catalogs and their "bulb" displays contain several groups of plants that have a common characteristic: During their dormant, or resting period, they can survive for weeks, even months without benefit of soil or moisture. Each contains within itself the means to carry on for a short period without help.

It is very difficult to select the "bulb" that leads the summer-flowering parade but due to the huge quantity that are grown commercially in this part of California we will name the tuberous begonia which is not a bulb but a tuber as the name signifies.

Tuberous begonia bulbs are already on display in our nurseries and garden supply stores. Growers begin shipping them out in January so as to have them available for planting when the little pink sprouts begin to show. Tubers that were lifted, washed and stored last fall should be examined for signs of the little nubbin-like pink growths. When these growths make their appearance it is time to put the rubers in a starting flat.

A nursery flat or similar shallow container should be used. Fill it with well rotted leaf mold or you can use equal parts peat moss and coarse sand as a starting medium. Do not use fertilizer of any kind, or manure. Space the sprouting tubers four to six inches apart, work them down into the starting medium until they are completely buried. For good root development it is essential that the tubers be completely covered as the roots develop from the top and sides as well as the bottom of the tubers. Water lightly but thoroughly but don't make the planting medium soggy. Place the planted flat in a warm place where it will get filtered sunlight and do not water again until the surface of the starting medium begins to show dryness.

As the plants develop they will need more frequent watering. Do not fertilize until the plants are set into individual pots or in a special bed in the garden. When the growth is four to five inches high they ar ready for transplanting. We grow ours in eight-inch clay pots using a commercial potting mix. They are just as easily grown in a sheltered bed where the soil has been lightened with plenty of humus. Keep in mind that the important requirement for "luck" with tuberous begonias is perfect drainaage.

Callas Very Showy

The summer flowering callas are very showy in the garden and a delight to arrange. We have grown the large white callas that start blooming in January, and put on such a beautiful show at Easter formany years but it wasn't until we became a serious flower arranger that we began growing the summer flowering callas.

Our two favorites are the yellow, or golden, calla (Richardia elliottiana) and the spotted leaved white calla (Richardia albo maculata). Some nurserymen use the name Zantedeschia instead of Richardia. Both of these callas have beautifully spotted foliage and they are both extremely easy to grow. Plant the rhizomes in a rich, humusy soil three to four inches deep and in a location that is protected from the hot afternoon sun. If you live in the Half Moon Bay area you could probably grow it quite well in full sun.

Local Orchid Society Honors

Eight outstanding flowers won American Orchid Society awards at the twentieth anniversary snow and banquet of the Peninsula Orchid Society of California.

There were 218 entries in the show, the first under AOS judging, held at the Elks Club, San Mateo.

Keith Shaffer of Shaffer's Tropical Gardens, Santa Cruz, the newly elected president of the America Orchid Society, was master of ceremonies.

Taking office were Albert A. Alberts, Newark, president; Clarence Hancock, Los Altos, vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Weber, Millbrae, recording secretary; Miss Millicent Brown, Palo Alto, recording secretary; Mrs. Otha H. Gandy, Millbrae, treasurer; Dr. Ray Faulkner, Stanford; Miss Shirley Holloway, San Mateo; David Potts, Menlo Park, and Michael Roccaforte, San Francisco, directors; Frank Kern, San Francisco, and Michael Roccaforte, Orchid Digest Corporation directors.

More than 150 attended the banquet which featured orchids in profusion. Favors of orchid seedlings were donated by James F. Hughes. Other favors were provided by Pacific Telephone Company, Wells Fargo Bank and Lytton Savings and Loan Association.

Artist Contest At SSF Library

Art lovers are invited to participate in the Northern California Open "Match the Paintings" contest, held at the new South San Francisco Library, the largest and most beautiful public library building in San Mateo County.

Some 77 paintings have been hung by the Peninsula Art Association.

The challenge is to match up each artist's paintings. Some are obvious, others call for an observing eye and lucky guesses.

Permits issued were to William Glynn, $3,800, addition to a dwelling at 119 Lomitas Avenue; George J. Kellner, $150, addition to a dwelling at 2610 Tipperary Avenue; G. L. Sherman, $2,400, addition to a dwelling at 1230 Edgewood Avenue.

Outstanding Production For Oakland Coliseum

BEARDED, JOVIAL, EXCITING AL HIRT, a solid showman to his fingertips, brings his bewitching trumpet into play when he appears at the new Oakland Coliseum "Glass Cage" Arena Saturday, February 11, along with Pee Wee and The Young Set, in addition to special guest stars Sergio Mendes and Brazil '66. There's no doubt that Al Hirt is one of the greatest exponents of jazz of this generation. Famous musicians such as Andre Kostelanetz. Tommy Dorsey, Ray McKinley and Horace Heidt have named him "virtuoso of the trumpet." During the past 15 years, Al has remained in New Orleans, chiefly because he's been content to stay at home with his lovely wife, Mary, and their eight children. But on the occasions that Al Hirt has accepted other dates, he's made the town go wild about what he does to and with music, and what he does as a showman on the bandstand.

ADOLPH ELEGES, a unit manager of the Foster Lunch System, received a National Restaurant Association award at a luncheon given in his honor by Henry Solomon, President of Foster Lunch System, at the Cliff House, last week. Mr. Eleges received a Sandwich Plate from Gary S. Nachmann, President of the Golden Gate Restaurant Association, for creating one of the Top Twenty Winners in the National Sandwich Idea Contest. He won the award for his "Crab Lorenzo" Sandwich. The prize-winning recipe makes six sandwiches and consists of six medium-sized enriched Fosters' English muffins, split, toasted and spread with butter. Taking 12 cooked asparagus spears, place one spear on each muffin half. After mixing together one small banana, mashed; two cans (7½ ounce each) crab meat, drained and flaked; one cup blanched almond slices; one cup finely chopped celery, and one half cup of mayonnaise or salad dressing, spread evenly over asparagus and muffin halfs. Place two triangles of Cheddar cheese on each sandwich, then sprinkle tops lightly with paprika. Broil in preheated broiler until cheese is bubbly. Now doesn't that make your mouth water!

PERSONABLE BUD URBAN, an old hand at being the congenial, hospitable host-owner at his Scotty Campbell's restaurant, Redwood City, as he expertly mixes his patrons' favorite concoctions from behind his plank post, is a ringer for ex-Governor Brown. Fact is, when Bud mingles with the dinner crowds, customers have often tried to engage him in a political conversation. However, prime ribs, steaks, and your dining enjoyment are foremost in Bud's mind . . . Seen dining at Pierre's, popular downtown San Mateo restaurant, and enjoying the home-cooked food of chef-owner Dewey Wong were Mayor and Mrs. Robert C. Vince Licata Is A Vocalist?

Uninformed until now: My good pal Vince Licata was quite a swinger in his younger days. It came through the grapevine that he used to sit in the rumble seat of a vintage De Soto while playing the accordion and singing "O Sole Mio." I'll supply the accordion, Vince, if you ever decide to make a comeback as a strolling troubadour in your distinguished Italian and seafood restaurant.

Car Is Rammed, 7 Youths Hurt

Pacifica police were trying to piece together the cause of a car accident on a quiet residential street last week in which seven youths were injured, two seriously.

Police reports Friday revealed the boys were pushing a stalled car on Lockhaven Drive shortly after 7 p.m. when they were rammed from behind by another car near the corner of Manor Drive.

Fire department Captain "Babe" Evans said "people were sprawled everywhere" when his rescue unit arrived to administering first-aid to the injured.

Seriously injured in the mishap were Ben Dea, 16, of 790 Thirty-fifth Avenue, San Francisco and Richard R. Chavez, 18, of 628 Lockhaven Drive.

Chavez was rushed to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco for treatment of a possible broken hip and multiple cuts and bruises.

Five less seriously injured companions were treated at Mary's Help and released. They included:

James Wayrynen, 17, of 365 Mina Lane, Pacifica (severe lacerations to the upper thigh, cuts and bruises); Melvin D. Davenport, 20, 239 Broderick Street, San Francisco (cuts, bruises); Willie Turner, 19, 688 Oak Street, San Francisco (knocked out, possible concussion); Daniel Jimeniz, 16, 604 Lockhaven Drive (cuts, bruises); Howard Leuing, about 17, 746 Baker Street, San Francisco (multiple bruises).

Driver of the second car was Patricia Parras, 17, of 667 Lockhaven Drive, according to police.

San Bruno Residence Is Looted

A San Bruno residence was broken into and looted of more than $600 in cash and property sometime Wednesday, police reported.

Officers said the Susan Drive residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Adams was broken into while the owners were away at work.

About $160 in coins, two watches, clothes and jewelry were taken.

Entrance to the house was gained through forcing a kitchen door which opens off the carport.

Officer Risks Life, Saves Boy, Puppy

The full resources of the Pacifica Fire Department and Peninsula Humane Society were mobilized last week to rescue a puppy that had fallen over an ocean cliff in Pacifica.

A humane officer nearly lost his life in the effort and a boy who volunteered to help did so at great peril.

The object of all the activity was Bridget, a 7-month-old Irish setter owned by Mrs. Clifford LeGette of 130 Mendocino Court, San Bruno.

Mrs. LeGette told William Dresser, superintendent of the humane society, that she was walking Bridget at Mori's Point at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when the puppy disappeared. Fearing that the dog had fallen over the cliff, Mrs. LeGette walked to the edge and peered over. Her fears were confirmed. There, lying still on the rocks far below, was Bridget.

The cliff at that point is almost perpendicular and there appeared to be no way to get down to the rocky beach. Among the passersby, however, was Robert Losada, 17, 1127 Escalero Avenue.

Robert found a way to reach the fallen puppy by inching along a narrow and muddy ledge that traverses the cliff face. Once at the bottom, however, the boy found that he could not climb back up and carry the dog at the same time. So he agreed to stay there and comfort Bridget until she could be rescued.

When Mrs. LeGette realized that special equipment would be needed, she called Dresser, who dispatched a rescue unit.

Humane Officer Frank Edlund and a local resident who was not identified made their way down the cliff face but they, too, found that it was not possible to carry the dog to safety.

Edlund slipped off a rock and fell into the roiling surf and disappeared from view. Luckily, he was wearing a safety belt to which was attached a length of rope.
